Consulted with David Lewis, SPE, regarding the Requirement for Restriction from which agreement was reached that a restriction was reasonable after a Non-final Office Action was submitted and search produced by a different, previous Examiner in the current inherited case based on the distinctions between two different groups of inventions.

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required:

Inventions	Claims	Drawn To	Class/Subclass
A	1-11, 30-35, 38-39, 41-43	Combination	463/39
B	16-23, 36	Subcombination	463/36
C	24-29, 37	Subcombination	463/40
D	40	Subcombination	463/37

The table above includes the groups, statutory category of invention for each group, class/subclass for each group along with Examiners suggested association of claims.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and/or examination burden if restriction were not required because at least the following reason(s) apply:

Inventions A and (B/C/D together) are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination is directed to a game controller that transmits and receives data to and from, respectively, a host in a manner in which the magnitude of both the transmission power and the reception power to conserve a battery connected to the game controller. The subcombination has separate utility such as using the magnitude of receiver sensitivity to conserve the battery, or using the magnitude of only the transmission power to conserve the battery, or adjusting the reception power and the transmission power to a lowest power level while maintaining a desired quality of service to conserve the battery.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

If applicants elect subcombinations B/C/D together over combination A, then applicants are further required to make an election of inventions between subcombinations B, C and D as being usable together.

Inventions B, C and D are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination B has separate utility such as using the magnitude of receiver sensitivity to conserve the battery. In contrast, subcombination C is directed to using the magnitude of only the transmission power to conserve the battery. Further in contrast, subcombination D is directed to adjusting the reception power and the transmission power to a lowest power level while maintaining a desired quality of service to conserve the battery. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to Emmanuel Rivera on 1/24/2011 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. Instead, Emmanuel Rivera requested that a written restriction requirement be mailed for further review, even though the logic of the restriction requirement according to Emmanuel was considered to be reasonable.
